NOETIC REALISM

Public Statement of Position

On the Order of Nine Angles (ONA) and Tempel ov Blood (ToB)

I want to make my position clear regarding the Order of Nine Angles (ONA) and Tempel ov Blood (ToB).

I reject both movements and the extremist ideology associated with them.

I reject fascism, Nazism, racial supremacy, antisemitism, political violence, terrorism, and the glorification of violence or cruelty. I do not support the recruitment, radicalization, or exploitation of people through extremist occult movements.

Occultism, esotericism, philosophy, and psychological self-development do not need extremist politics, racial hatred, or violence to have meaning. These subjects can be explored critically and constructively without promoting hatred or harm.

I believe people should be encouraged to develop themselves through discipline, education, critical thinking, psychological growth, creativity, and personal responsibility—not through extremist ideology.

My position is simple:

No fascism.

No Nazism.

No racial supremacy.

No political violence.

No extremist occult movements.

No glorification of hatred or cruelty.

I reject ONA and ToB and want no part in promoting or legitimizing their extremist ideology.

On 764

I want to make my position absolutely clear on 764.

I condemn 764 and everything it represents.

A group that targets, grooms, manipulates, extorts, and psychologically abuses children is not some edgy internet subculture. It is predatory, destructive, and completely unacceptable.

The recent case involving a child here in Newfoundland and Labrador should be a wake-up call. Children should be able to use the internet without being hunted by people trying to manipulate them into self-harm, exploitation, violence, or other dangerous behaviour.

I have absolutely no sympathy for 764 or anyone who participates in this shit.

Leave kids alone.

I don't care how "nihilistic," "dark," "sinister," or "extreme" you think you are. Preying on vulnerable children isn't strength. It isn't rebellion. It isn't philosophy. It's abuse.

If you're involved with 764 or anything like it, get the fuck away from children.

And if you don't like me saying that, block me. I ain't scared of any of you, and I don't care what you say about me.

Protect kids. Reject 764. Reject online extremism.
